TECHNOLOGY

Verizon: Verizon is waiving late fees and suspending service termination for customers "negatively impacted by the global crisis."

T-Mobile: The mobile phone service provider is providing unlimited data to all current customers who have plans with data for the next 60 days. It will also provide additional data to mobile hotspot users

LTD Broadband: Offering free installation and 60 days free service to families of students who receive free and reduced lunch services.

AT&T: AT&T is suspending the termination of wireless, home phone, or broadband service when customers can't pay their bills because of coronavirus disruptions. The company is also waiving related late fees.

Charter Communications: Charter is providing free spectrum broadband and Wi-Fi internet for the next 60 days to households with K-12 students or college students who don't already have a subscription. Like Comcast and AT&T, it's also offering its Wi-Fi hot spots for free to the public.

Comcast: Comcast is offering free access to its Xfinity WiFi hot spots for everyone, including non-subscribers, for the 60 days. It's also providing unlimited data to its customers for no extra charge and is not disconnecting internet service or charging late fees for customers who say they can't pay their bills. They are also providing 60 days of free basic internet service to new customers.
