Beginning in Fall 2024, RIIL to offer middle school sports opportunities for first time ever

The Rhode Island Interscholastic League is pleased to announce that, starting this fall, the RIIL will be offering school-based sports opportunities to middle schools that voluntarily wish to become RIIL member schools. This marks the first time in RIIL history that the league will offer middle school sports.

“I am thrilled to announce a significant development in our organization that will undoubtedly enhance the overall educational experience for middle school students in Rhode Island,” said RIIL Executive Director Michael P. Lunney. “This decision stems from discussions over the past few years between the current provider of Middle School sports (RIPCOA) and the RIIL. RIPCOA has made the decision to stop their offerings at the conclusion of the 2023-24 school year. I want to personally thank and commend everyone involved with RIPCOA, especially Executive Director Patti Aull, for her leadership and commitment to providing outstanding middle school sports in Rhode Island for so many years.”

Educational school-based athletics provide student-athletes with the opportunity to engage in healthy competition, develop valuable life skills and build camaraderie with their peers. Middle School sports serve as an avenue for physical activity, a platform for personal growth and the reinforcement of essential values such as teamwork, sportsmanship and perseverance.

“We believe that by extending our sports programs to the middle school level, we can contribute to the holistic development of students, both academically and athletically,” Lunney said. “The inclusion of middle school sports also aligns with our mission to create a supportive and inclusive environment that encourages participation, diversity and the pursuit of excellence.”

The Rhode Island Interscholastic League is a voluntary organization of principals who pledge their schools and participants to follow the Rules and Regulations of the League. The RIIL is governed by the Principals’ Committee on Athletics.

At its January meeting, the PCOA unanimously approved the appointment of RIPCOA Executive Director Patricia Aull to the PCOA Board and Ted Quigley to the position of Middle School Sport Director.

As part of its extensive planning and preparation for the 2024-25 school year, the RIIL invited all Rhode Island middle school administrators to participate in an online survey. This input will be instrumental in shaping the Middle School sports program to meet the unique needs of the middle school community.

In February, the RIIL hosted an Open House informational meeting at the RIIL office to provide middle school administrators with an opportunity to learn more about the RIIL Middle School sports initiative, ask questions, and engage in meaningful discussions with our team.

Rhode Island middle schools have until April 5th to confirm their intent to join the RIIL and declare which sports they intend to participate in for the 2024-25 school year.

Lincoln High School

THANK YOU to all who participated!

For the second year in a row, Lincoln High School was crowned the champion of the RIIL Spirit Challenge, presented by Navigant Credit Union.

Beginning on March 1st, students, fans, alumni, and community members across Rhode Island had the chance to show their school spirit and support their favorite schools through this social media event hosted on the RIIL's X (formerly Twitter) account (@RIIL_sports). The RIIL Spirit Challenge featured a bracket comprising all RIIL member high schools. Each match-up was conducted via X polls, with the school that picked up the most votes advancing to the next round. Early-round match-ups featured two days of voting, and later rounds lasted just one day.

Last year's finalists in each regional bracket received first-round byes. Lincoln, which also went on to be crowned the overall winner of the 2023 RIIL Spirit Challenge, and Johnston each received first-round byes in the North Region. Charinho, which finished second overall to the Lions last year, and Bishop Hendricken received first-round byes in the South Region. St. Raphael Academy and Classical High received the Central Region's first-round byes, and Middletown and Rocky Hill Country Day automatically advanced to the second round of the East Region bracket after finishing as last year's finalists in that pod.

After two weeks of voting through the X polls, Lincoln (North), Achievement 1st Providence (Central), Pilgrim (South) & Rocky Hill Country Day (East) emerged as the regional pod winners. Lincoln and Rocky Hill Country Day then won their "Final Four" matchups and went head-to-head for the championship, where Lincoln prevailed once again, receiving 59.2 percent of the votes in its title match with the Mariners.

Thank you to all who participated! We hope you had fun supporting your favorite school!

Through a coordinated effort between the RIIL, Amica Mutual Pavilion General Manager Larry Lepore, Rhode Island Convention Center Authority Executive Director Dan McConaghy and their staff, the finals of the RIIL Boys & Girls Divisional Basketball Championships returned to the AMP for the first time in two decades. Seven championships – Boys Divisions I, II and III and Girls Divisions I, II, III and IV – were played at the AMP in Downtown Providence from March 4-6, 2024.

The RIIL extends its gratitude and appreciation to everyone at the AMP for their help and support in making the experience both memorable and special for our student-athletes and fans. We saw some outstanding individual performances and closely contested games that certainly added to the excitement of being in a great basketball venue!

ALICE SULLIVAN MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

THE ALICE SULLIVAN MEMORIAL FUND

Purpose: The purpose of the fund is to sustain in perpetuity Alice Sullivan's life, character and enthusiasm for girls athletics.

Qualifications: The monies generated can be used but not limited to: Scholarship(s) to female high school and/or female collegiate student-athletes who express interest in coaching and/or officiating female sports; sponsoring speakers for female high school or collegiate events; sponsoring female high school workshops or conferences.

Award – 2024: Minimum $800.00

ABOUT ALICE SULLIVAN: Alice Sullivan's time as a teacher and administrator at East Providence High School spanned four decades. Her contributions to Rhode Island's student-athletes, especially girls, extended much, much further than that. The driving force behind girls sports being added to the Rhode Island Interscholastic League in the late 1960s, Sullivan became the league's director of girls sports and then its first assistant executive director. By the time she stepped down from her position at the RIIL in 1996, the league was offering 14 sports for girls. Even after her retirement, Sullivan continued to work tirelessly to ensure that girls received the best athletic opportunities possible until her death in November 2003 at the age of 78. Shortly after her passing, a foundation and scholarship was created in Sullivan's name "to sustain in perpetuity Alice Sullivan's life, character and enthusiasm for girls athletics."

Applications are now being accepted for the Alice Sullivan Memorial Scholarship.

COACHING: The Coventry High School Hall of Famer has 35 years of coaching experience . . . Currently the Oakers' head Gymnastics coach, as well as coach of the Competitive & Football Cheerleading Teams, guiding them to multiple state titles . . . Also previously coached Girls Track & Field at Coventry H.S. and North Kingstown H.S.

“ What continues to give me Oaker Pride is to watch my athletes reach their full potential from my influence in their lives. I currently have 6 former cheerleaders who have followed me in cheering for the NFL, 8 cheerleaders and gymnasts who have opened their own cheer and gymnastics gyms, and countless athletes who have continued in college athletics. The ripple effect is exciting to see and experience and hopefully will continue for many generations. ”

Educator Role: Physical Education and Health Teacher and Department Head

More on Lolita's Background as an Educator: In 1997, I was hired in the Physical Education and Health Department, coaching competition cheerleading and bringing gymnastics back to CHS after two decades of its absence, which allowed CHS to comply with the Title IX law. I also became a member of the Girls and Women in Sports Association, the RIHPERD Association for PE teachers and the RI Interscholastic League as a coach and official for both gymnastics and track and field. In 2002 after coaching the gymnastics team to a State championship, RIIL and Girls and Women in Sports Association named me the "Female Coach of the Year". I continued to coach both sports for 10 more years and added Girls Track and Field as well.

In 2003 I received my Masters Degree in Physical Education and Sports Psychology from URI. While I continued to teach, my experiences coaching and competing for Rhode Island College gymnastics along with cheering three seasons for the New England Patriots, led me to start a business in Coventry in 2002. KC Cats All Star Cheerleaders was one of the very first competitive All-Star cheerleading gyms in RI and the longest running for 17 years. In those years, KC Cats served over two thousand athletes and their families from two years old to adult and also created RI's first Special Needs Unified Cheer Team. Regional and National competitions led to six US Finals championships

In 2018 I retired from KC Cats and continued to lead and shape young lives at CHS by coaching the gymnastics, competition/football cheerleaders, and creating the first CHS Unified Cheerleading squad. The return to interscholastic athletics brought me joy and allowed the Gymnastics team to earn the state runner-up title and qualify athletes to the New England every year. The Competition Cheer squad equally was successful with 4 years of back to back State titles for competitive cheer from 2000-2023.

In 2022, I began serving in a leadership role as the Curriculum Coordinator of the CHS Physical Education and Health Department. Over the years, I have taken part in many extracurricular activities at CHS. The choreography of a flash mob including the 325 graduates of the graduating class of 2021 was one of my favorites. I enjoy sharing these skills with faculty dances for our annual athletic pep rallies as well.

I hope I have made them proud as I continue to coach and inspire young athletes to enjoy the opportunities these women gave to them. ”

Please describe one of the greatest highlights of your career as an educator and/or coach?

There is not one specific highlight but many that attribute to my career. It has brought me so much joy to lead my students and athletes through the journey of growth, increased confidence, and success-in both winning and even losing. It is my students and ATHLETES that are the true winners who have brought me to this place today. With a humble and grateful heart I continue to enjoy and appreciate the role I can play in impacting one life at a time for the better. I am ready to believe in the next student, the next athlete, and ready to give them an opportunity to discover , grow and succeed.

Who inspired you and why do you feel it is important to continue promoting athletic opportunities for girls?

Every Coach I have had from 10 years old and on has inspired me to be the coach I am today. My first gymnastics coach and business mentor Rita Santilli, my high school track and field coaches, my college gymnastics coach Dick Stapleton and the late long time Patriots Cheer coach Tracy Sormanti, have taught me how to enjoy coaching and allow athletes to enjoy their sports. However, it was the pioneer women I met in the Girls and Women in Sports Association that told me to continue to promote these opportunities for girls. People like Alice Sullivan, Ann Morris, Elaine Lyden, Jane Headley and Jackie Court all inspired me to keep the ball rolling for the equality and work was vital in the movement for this to happen. I will always remember them telling me, "We may have not gotten the chance to compete in athletics, but we will make it happen for all of the girls and women in the future". They called me the "young blood", and it was my job to keep the ball rolling for girls sports in this state. I hope I have made them proud as I continue to coach and inspire young athletes to enjoy the opportunities these women gave to them.
