NCAA Eligibility Center-Preparation & Timeline

As this year again brings unique challenges, the Eligibility Center is working to assist you at every step. While you work to prioritize things, here are the three top things you can do to assist those student-athletes who carry their dream of playing college athletics into your office.

Follow this link for the NCAA EC Registration Checklist.

1. Advise Students to Create an EC Account

Encourage any student-athletes wanting to play sports in college to create an EC account at eligibilitycenter.org. Incoming freshman and undecided student-athletes may want to register for a free Profile Page account. These accounts can be transferred to a paid Certification account at any time. Profile Page account registrants also get an NCAA ID and important reminders from the EC as they progress through high school.

Any student planning to compete at an NCAA Division I or II school needs to create a Certification account before taking an official visit or signing a National Letter of Intent. Click here to learn which account is right for your student-athlete.

2. Update Your Core-Course List

The beginning of the school year is a great time to review your school's core-course list. A list that has not been updated recently could delay your graduating seniors' academic certification or prevent them from meeting the requirements.

You may add courses, archive those no longer taught and change titles quickly and easily on the High School Portal. If you believe your list is accurate, please log in to the High School Portal to verify you have no updates. This will refresh your account and let the Eligibility Center know your core-course list is correct.

3. Upload Student Transcripts

If you haven't done so, please upload sixth semester transcripts for your incoming senior student-athletes. The easiest way to send transcripts to the Eligibility Center is by uploading them directly in the High School Portal. Direct uploads are quick, free and provide almost immediate access to your student-athlete's transcripts. The Eligibility Center also accepts official electronic transcripts from a list of approved providers.

- 1 Advise your students to create a Profile Page or Certification account with the Eligibility Center.
- 2 Update your school's core-course list or confirm your list is up-to-date.
- 3 Upload all incoming seniors' sixth semester transcripts to their NCAA Eligibility Center accounts.
