THIRD GRADE DETECTIVES

The third grade class has been learning how to make inferences through observations, evidence, and what they already know. They put their knowledge to the test in our mock crime scene. It appeared that the characters from the book that they have been reading (The Wild Robot) were very much part of the crime scenes.

Mrs. Schultz's second graders had been reading about sled dogs and on Thursday they got to meet some real ones!!

Scott and Dawn Prah! brought in two of their huskies and talked about what it takes to take care of them, answered many good questions from the second graders, and stressed the fact that they LOVE TO RUN!!

Mrs. Tisthammer's Small and Large Animal Class also got to meet the dogs because they have been learning about many breeds of dogs this week.
